

OUR ONLY GOAL: SUCCESS FOR YOUR ASSETS.

Your "Institut für Vermögenssicherung & Asset Management"

WEALTH DESERVES GENUINE PERSONAL COMMITMENT.

The market for wealth accumulation and protection is full of opaque products that mainly benefit others. It took two four-legged friends to come up with a counterproposal with precision and care.

Two dogs, the Elbe beach, two different perspectives: The story of INVIOS begins with a chance encounter.

While walking their dogs, Nikolas Kreuz and Heiner Hauck cross paths. One is a bank director with 36 years of investment experience, 23 of them in asset management.

The other, a successful entrepreneur who sees the need and opportunity for optimizing the asset management and protection industry. Together, they decide to take the right approach from two different perspectives.

A real alternative to the bank begins without the interests of a bank.

The time is ripe for a new approach. Banks often fail to provide investors with comprehensive and independent advice, meaning transactions don't always occur solely in the investor's best interest. Ambiguity can quickly escalate into uncertainty, an effect exacerbated by mergers into ever larger, more anonymous banks. Often the only clarity that remains is the substantial fees associated with financial products.

As an investor, you can do better.

Instead of automated algorithms, catalogued customer groups and standardized products at inflated prices, INVIOS relies on good old school values. This starts with truly personal advice, with a partner who adapts to your needs, and understands your goals.

INVIOS is different - the trusted companion.

In management: A head who has managed the assets of many renowned companies, pension funds, foundations and notable family dynasties for decades. In the course of his work, Nikolas Kreuz has secured and increased assets in the triple-digit billion range. He continues to work in this spirit. However, without the large cost apparatus. Instead, he works truly in partnership, individually and with significantly more security for you.

Because your assets need protection.

INVIOS has set out to precisely fulfil this claim. The management has experienced the major market upheavals of the last decades. We therefore know that opportunities are often overestimated and risks underestimated. This encourages us to approach the topic of asset accumulation more systematically and to avoid emotional investment decisions. Experience, new thinking and passion lead to the creation of INVIOS, the "Institut für Vermögenssicherung & Asset-Management."

The mission of INVIOS.

1) We create transparency by promoting financial literacy through lectures and seminars. Everyone will have access to effective wealth strategies in the future.

2) We advise and set up funds together with network partners by pooling our experience and knowledge.

3) We manage complex assets individually, comprehensively and very personally on a custody basis, while providing holistic investment advice.

SEMINARS, BLOGS AND LECTURES: WE TRAIN YOUR FINANCIAL KNOW- LEDGE.

Benefit from our decades of experience in managing large customer assets. We make this wealth of experience accessible to you and thus ensure even greater transparency.

We are happy to accompany you.

Not everyone dares to build up assets independently and purposefully. Because it simply seems too complicated without the necessary expertise.

In fact, the risks should not be underestimated. Low interest rates, falling pension levels and an uncertain market situation make it increasingly difficult to save sensibly and invest existing capital profitably.

But: With a systematic approach, the risks become manageable. And: Investments pay off even with small amounts.

We will be happy to teach you that.
